COMMON QUESTIONS

Straight answers.

Can I just buy a rail and fix it myself?
Rails must be fixed into solid structure to hold body weight, and placement matters. That is why we measure and test it with the person.

Can I buy the rails myself and have you fit them?
Yes, if they meet the OT's recommendation and are rated for body weight. We will tell you if they are not suitable before we fit them.

Do rails damage the tiles?
They need drilled holes, and we seal them. If a rail is removed later, the holes can be filled and the tiles are otherwise undamaged.
